
AFTER CLEANING OF KEN ELLIS QUILTED ARTWORK OF THE SHORE FAMILY

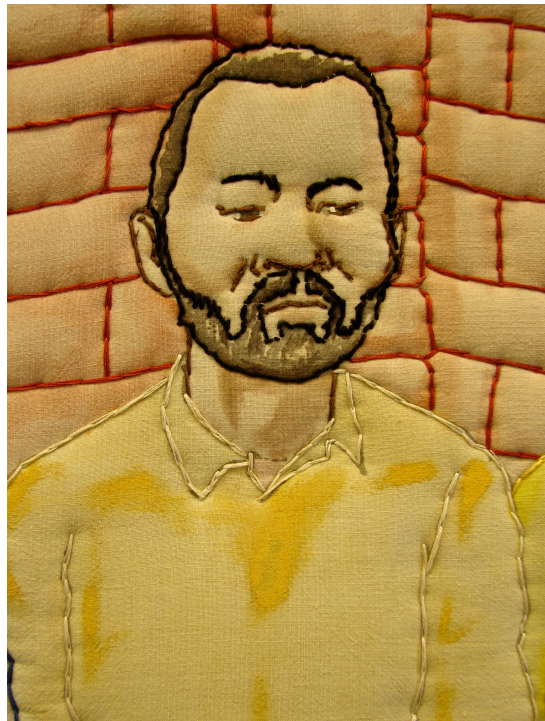

*Ken Ellis's images have charmed
this conservator.*

Simple lines say so much, and it was an honor to clean and care for the Shore family.

*I chose to show the darker of the images in the report, as they show the depth of the quilting and how it adds to the expressions
on the faces, however, the brighter images
are in the Document file.*

Kate Powell

The man holding the dogs shoulders needed to be shown in context.

It is, after all, a family portrait.

Unfortunate that the smoke/tobacco stains only lightened, and persisted along the top.

Because of the tones of Ellis's work, many would think they part of his shading!

However, a great deal of embedded dust/dirt lifted from both sides.
